Introduction

The use of proper addresses for Notices of Levy is beneficial to the Service and to the organization served. It avoids undue delays in processing by sending the forms directly to the proper location. Some organizations, for mutual convenience, have furnished specific addresses for Service use. This directory provides a quick reference for such information.

The intent of the Notice of Levy Address Directory is to augment the section of the Internal Revenue Manual (IRM) dealing with Notices of Levy. The term Notices of Levy refers to both Forms 668-A and 668-W. The pertinent IRM section must be read, prior to levy action, to determine if any specific criteria are involved. This is especially true with benefit income which requires special delegation authority.

Treasury Regulation 301.6331-1, paragraph (c), effective 03/10/83, requires acceptance of notice of levy by mail.
